REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

The school board, in submitting their report to the public, realize the fact that every one will not be pleased with their work.

There have been some much needed repairs made.

School-house, No. 2, the poorest house in the district, has been entirely remodelled,—new clapboards and paint, windows and door, new floor, and new improved seats, making a very comfortable school-room.

There are other repairs that should be made, particularly in the way of seats, only three of our school-houses being furnished with improved seats.

Something must be done soon about a room for the Village school. We hope some action may be taken at the coming school-meeting.

During the year, for the most part, experienced teachers have been employed, who have proved themselves successful and competent teachers.

Schools Nos. 1 and 4 were united, the spring term being in school-house No. 4, and the fall term in No. 1. Both terms were taught by Miss Gertie B. Glidden. The teacher, from the first, secured the good-will of the scholars, resulting in two pleasant and profitable terms.

No. 2. Both terms taught by Miss Lizzie J. Glidden. This is a small school, but teacher and scholars worked together with profit.

No. 3. Spring term taught by Miss Isa M. Sanborn, who fully sustained her former reputation as a teacher. Fall term taught by Miss Alice R. Jones, a new teacher who showed herself capable of teaching and governing a school.

No. 5. Spring term taught by Miss Nella F. Sanborn. Fall term by Miss Isa M. Sanborn. In this school there is a large proportion of small scholars, making it hard to keep as quiet as some schools. Both teachers worked for the good of the school.

No. 6. Miss Julia F. Weeks, teacher both terms. Miss Weeks worked hard for the good of the school, and maintained good order. The classes at the close of both terms showed marked progress.

No. 7. This school made good progress, and showed thorough work under the instruction of Miss Amy B. Kenniston in the spring term, and Miss Nella F. Sanborn in the fall.

No. 8. Miss Edith L. Swain, teacher spring term. Miss Swain is a fine scholar, and too well known as a successful teacher to need any remarks from us. The fall term was under the care of Miss Emma S. Bennett, a graduate of Waterbury (Vt.) Seminary, who sustained her former reputation as a teacher.

No. 9. Spring term taught by Miss Arda M. Hyatt, an accomplished and painstaking teacher. Although the school was small, the term was a success. Fall term taught by Miss Lulu E. Price, a graduate of Laconia High School, who has a good reputation as a teacher. Owing to sickness of the teacher the school closed one week sooner than was expected, and was not visited by the school board.

No. 10. Spring term taught by Miss Dora E. Glidden, an experienced teacher, who worked for the good of the school. We fear some of the scholars failed to receive the most benefit possible from the school. Fall term taught by Willie I. Hyatt, a young teacher, who succeeded in keeping order, and we think a profitable term.

No. 12. Miss Julia M. Brown teacher both terms. This is a small school, kept in the best school-house in the district. The scholars showed good progress at the close of each term.

High school at Gilford Village, taught by D. C. Bliss, a student from Hanover, has been in session twelve weeks, and has two weeks longer to continue. It is a model school, consisting as it does of some of our best young men and ladies, who have been orderly and attentive to their studies, and with the help of their teacher, who has been interested and painstaking in their behalf, it has proved a pleasant and profitable term.

LAKE VILLAGE.

BOARD OF EDUCATION—J. B. HENDLEY, C. L. PULSIFER, E. P. HOYT.

The short time allowed for the preparation of the school report this year, before it must go to the printer, prevents an extended notice of several subjects which will be considered at a later period.

The recommendations made in a previous report having been favorably considered at the district meeting in March, the work of finishing the new building and furnishing one room has been completed. This has been thoroughly done by the original contractor for the building, at an expense of two hundred or three hundred dollars less than the amount authorized by vote of the district. The room has been in use for an intermediate school since September.

The house on School street has been painted and otherwise improved, and also refurnished. New seats have been placed in both rooms on Pear street, and "City" water introduced into all buildings in the district. All these additions are not chargeable to the "current expenses" of the past year, but are in the nature of permanent improvements, and have been made at a cost, in the aggregate, considerably less than the amount granted by the last meeting.

The changes made in the rooms will aid in securing a better classification of scholars than has been possible in the past. The Pear street intermediate school has been transferred to the new building, and the primary grade divided into two nearly equal divisions of about forty pupils. The change has required an additional teacher since the fall term.

There are now four primary schools, with an attendance of about two hundred pupils during the year. It is evident that these schools should receive careful attention, and should be under the charge of the best and most experienced teachers. The pupil here gains his first impressions, and forms habits that have an abiding influence in deciding the moral and mental bent of his whole life. The wise master-builder employs his most skilful workmen to lay the foundation of his superstructure, lest he find too late that "he has built on cobble-stones or on a sandy foundation"

The way has been opened for providing supplementary reading and work in all the schools, a beginning of which was made last term. The many nature, geographical, historical, and scientific readers now at command for every grade of work will tend to the formation of habits of observation and study, and an enthusiasm for knowledge hitherto unattainable. Systematic work in modelling and drawing was begun last term in the schools on Pear street. Judging from the progress made in the short time at command, and the many incidental advantages arising from the proper treatment of this subject, it would be advisable to extend it to all the lower schools. Vocal music has been well taught in some of the schools by the teachers. Beginning with next term, we think it should be a part of the course in all the schools.

The schools have suffered severely the past term from sickness. A larger number of teachers and pupils have been on the sick-list than in any previous time in the history of the town. This has made some changes and transfers necessary among teachers on very short notice. The result of all these things has been a serious hindrance to the progress of some of the classes.

We hope there will be greater regularity of attendance and punctuality in some cases the coming year. There seems to be no uniform rule among towns or teachers as to what constitutes the "record of perfect attendance" sometimes published in the papers and reports. To be on the "roll of honor," the rule in this district is, that the pupil must be present every regular session during the term, and remain long enough for a recitation: a pupil present at the opening of the school and immediately dismissed is not present within the meaning of the rule. In regard to tardiness, the rule is, that the last stroke of the gong or bell must be made on the minute the school is to begin (8:30 A. M. and 1 or 1:30 P. M.), and any pupil not in his room at the time is to be considered late. It is not enough that the pupil be in the yard or hall-way. The exceptions or "supposable cases" are subject to special consideration. The purpose is to secure punctuality as a habit, and all the older pupils, at least, heartily approve of the requirement.

In reviewing the year's work, we think all the teachers have been earnest and faithful in their responsible duties, some of the schools having attained a good degree of excellence and efficiency, while others may be readily brought up to a higher standard. With the present increased facilities, and a readjustment of certain classes and studies now made possible, good progress may be expected the coming year.

A list of teachers, schools, studies, and other facts may be seen by reference to the statistical table that follows.
